

ScreenCast-o-matic Video in PbWiki

Did you create a cool ScreenCast-o-matic video that you want to place in your Wiki? You are in luck – it is a simple process!

Once you have captured the perfect video, you will be prompted to provide the following: Title, Description, Language and Note. You will choose to either upload your screencast or export it.

The screenshot shows the upload form for a screencast. Red callout boxes with arrows point to the following elements:

- Title: A text input field containing "Demo".
- Description: A text area for providing a description.
- Language: A dropdown menu currently set to "English".
- Note: A text area for adding a note.
- Options: A section with three checked checkboxes: "Searchable", "Users can add notes", and "Users can leave comments".
- Upload Screencast: A button to upload the video.
- Export: A section with radio buttons for "Full size: 800x600" and "Scale width: [] px", and three checked checkboxes: "Show notes (if any)", "Show mouse cursor", and "Show mouse clicks".
